

BC Sports Hall of Fame TREASURES on display now at Science World

May 7, 2010, Vancouver BC The BC Sports Hall of Fame is thrilled to be a part of Science World's newest exhibit TREASURE. The BC Sports Hall of Fame is not open to the public due to Phase II construction of BC Place. During this time we are providing access to our collection and stories through a variety of community outreach experiences. The BC Sports Hall of Fame's Olympic torches are currently being exhibited at Science World in the first of many such outreach activities. The support of partners such as Science World provides the ideal way in which the BC Sports Hall of Fame can continue to celebrate the exceptional sport heritage of our province with the community.

Artifacts on display at Science World through the month of May:

- Olympic torch from the 2010 Vancouver Winter Olympic Games used by BC Sports Hall of Famer Simon Whitfield to start the Canadian portion of the torch relay
- Olympic torch from the 2006 Torino Winter Olympic Games
- Olympic torch from the 2002 Salt Lake City Winter Olympic Games
- Olympic torch from the 1988 Calgary Winter Olympic Games
- Olympic torch from the 1976 Montreal Summer Olympic Games

The artifact displays will rotate monthly throughout Science World's newest exhibit TREASURE.
